M6OS creative mod Progress is a four part, 1,000-page labor of love starring. of this reason, the addition of the latest iteration of the modding API is possibly the most important. Apotheosis, First Daughter of the South, and the Downtrodden.. 4,076 Views, 0 Likes, 0 Comments About Me Thursday, April 5, 2013 I'm a kindred spirit I never knew a kindred spirit until now. I've always felt like a kindred spirit when I sing or play music. I even feel this way when I'm riding in the car and another vehicle's bumper is touching mine. I'm very emotional and when someone touches my hair or arm I respond. It's my "body guard" and when someone tries to "talk" to me they usually get an earful. Since realizing that's me on the left it's been all I can do not to run screaming down the street. I just woke up from a very vivid dream where I had an x-ray to show that a friend had lost his arm and other limbs. Only a skin deep relationship but emotional nonetheless. I don't know if I'll have to deal with this or go all Nancy Kerrigan on my physician. I always thought that people who had childhood polio were afraid of certain things, but I guess it's every single one of us. Maybe we're just afraid of being drugged to sleep. We're some pretty fun people to be around. The last 15 years have been a roller coaster. I've had to live with a BOTOX face and a neoprene cervical collar and have had plastic surgery done to fix it. I've gone from working as a stage and TV actor to jobless and depressed. I'm not kidding. If I were in my pj's I would definitely take up knitting. I think it's important to make a real effort to meet new friends. I don't really care if they are rich or poor. It's important for our health not to let our friends and family become strangers. Be kind to your fellow man and try to be a man of compassion. Love yourself. You're unique and if you see that you're different you're the only one. My husband would say that I'm a bookworm. I really do love to read and I devour books. I'm a crossword and jigsaw puzzler and have for over 60 0cc13bf012
