Indigenous people's achievements The first areas settled by Europeans to be claimed by the Australian government as Indigenous land were the pastoral stations on the western side of the Australian mainland. Members of remote Aboriginal communities were consulted by the colonial government who wanted their areas cleared of traditional Aboriginal occupants, also known as the "blackfellas". Many were coerced through a system of indenture, whereby the government paid the members to settle in the area, if they had land ownership at all. At some point the idea of segregation was also implemented, making Aboriginal people an 'other' to the majority white Australian society. Today it is taught in Australian schools that Aboriginal people are the original Australians, and that the land was cleared by them. However, this view has been challenged by recent archaeological and anthropological research. Many argue that the first settlers were not Aboriginal. Arguably, the only difference was that the first British settlers were spread throughout Tasmania and Western Australia, whereas Aboriginal people were spread across a much larger area. The Tasmanian Aboriginal population is estimated to have had 15, people, with an adult Aboriginal population of fewer than 1, people. There are many societies of Australian Aboriginal people that have existed in Australia. Each group had their own beliefs, customs and stories d0c515b9f4

I created a premade template where you enter the information for a post and then it posts it to wp-admin/post.php?post=lastname-firstname This is fine, but I need to add a form that allows users to add a new post (title, description, category, etc) while using the premade template. I found these tutorials but they are not quite what I am looking for. I am very familiar with wordpress and php, but i need to be able to add something like a 'Add Post' button that will show a blank form where you enter the details for your post, save it, and then it's added to the premade template. I'm not looking to make something where I have to enter all the information for the post before I can add it. I am looking to make something that looks the same and allows the user to save their form entry (where it would be included in my premade template). Thank you in advance for the help. A: You have to create a custom post type, then add it to the admin area and post form. Then you have to build a form that in return saves the post data from the custom post to the custom post type. You can use the ACF plugin and there is a nice plugin example tutorial on how to create the custom post type.
