Roblox allows players to create their own virtual world called a “game”, where a player can create a character and then join a game that other users have created. Once in a game, a player chooses a specific character to play as, and can move around the game. The player then has the choice to expand their character with different clothing, props, and gadgets before entering into the game. Gameplay can be simple or incredibly complex, depending on the chosen game. Games often range from quizzes and puzzles to roleplaying and platforming. The player can also interact with other players, either alone or with other players online. The platform is free to use, and Roblox games are free to download and play, but some games do require payment of Robux to progress. Roblox has over 164 million monthly active users, including more than half of all American children under 16. Although Roblox has received generally positive reviews from critics, it has faced criticism for its moderation, microtransactions, and exploitative practices toward children. Roblox has been a private company that has been funded with millions of dollars a year by its parent company, Beenox, an international video game developer based in Luxembourg. How to make money with Roblox: Two of the most common ways that Roblox users have monetized their games are through the in-game advertising tools provided by AdGear and through the virtual currency, Robux. Robux is the virtual currency that Roblox users use to buy in-game items from developers, similar to how gamers spend money on microtransactions in other games. There is also a premium currency that Roblox users can purchase with real money called PowerVests. For a price in Robux, developers can allow users to purchase more Robux and add more power to their game. Games that require PowerVests usually have a second gameplay element that allows users to choose one of three different PowerVests, each of which affects the gameplay by providing different abilities, in exchange for a set amount of Robux. Robux can be used to purchase things in the game, such as character customization, game items, or exclusive avatar gear. For example, the game Duet lets users create additional character slots with a Robux purchase and then opens up those user-created slots to become accessible to other players. In the game, Robux provides a top-up that restores a user's energy, but a Robux purchase will also

Are there any guarantees you can trust? P.S. People have tried to scam me in the past, I do not want to get scammed in the future. A: If you use Roblox ID Guard, it is almost impossible to get free robux in the future. Roblox ID Guard is an ID checker, it scans your account for illegal activities and spams your email and your phone with warnings if the checker discovers any illegal activity. You should NOT use ID Guard, you should use your own self-made one, it is much easier. I use a script that uses this module: It also scans the game for illegal activities and does not bombard you with emails or texts.

Junior from Chino Hills High School Named to ‘Rising Stars of Basketball’ SHERMAN OAKS (October 16, 2014) — On September 24, 2014, the Chino Hills High School Junior Basketball team participated in a California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) State Basketball Tournament Semi-Final. One week later, their gritty performance earned them the distinction of being one of thirteen basketball teams selected as semifinalists for “Rising Stars of Basketball”. This recognition, which was given by the Junior Basketball Coaches Association (JBCA) is the first time this honor has been bestowed on a team from San Gabriel Valley High School District (SGVHSD). The tournament is held annually at Lakewood High School. This is the fourth straight year the SGVHSD has represented their region and is led by head coach Valeria Villa, who was named West Region Coach of the Year for the 2014 season. The next time “Rising Stars of Basketball” will be honored is at the 2015 tournament, where the winner will receive a trophy. This year, 33 schools from 14 different CIF Districts are being recognized for excellence in the classroom, athletic, and community activities. Six CIF Districts were not represented in this tournament (Chula Vista, Pasadena, Central, Orange, Long Beach, and West Los Angeles). This slideshow requires JavaScript. Villa was quoted as saying, “This has been a very exciting year for Chino Hills High School. We have maintained our tradition of excellence in basketball, but more importantly, we have been recognized in
